Statistics

This is a companion volume to Dr. Scott's previously published Abstracts from Ben Franklin's Pennsylvania Gazette, 1728-1748. Births, marriages and deaths, and a number of items concerned with missing heirs, relatives, or friends have been excerpted.

Exhibition Design

A young boy is worried about what will happen to his body when he hears such expressions as "I'm tongue-tied," "don't give me any of your lip," and "I put my foot in my mouth."

Acting Is a Job

The way in which the contemporary exhibition is designed is fast changing - previously aloof cultural institutions are making use of technologies and techniques more commonly associated with film and retail. Exhibition Design features a wide variety of examples from around the world, from major trade and commerce fairs, to well-known fine art institutions, to small-scale artist-designed displays. An introduction gives a historical perspective on the development of exhibitions and museums. The first part of the book covers the conceptual themes of narrative space, performative space and simulated experience and the second the practical concerns of display, lighting, colour, sound and graphics. Throughout are photographs, drawings and diagrams of exhibitions, including the work of such internationally renowned architects and designers as Ralph Appelbaum Associates, Atelier Bruckner, Casson Mann, Frank Gehry, Zaha Hadid, Imagination, METStudio and Jean Nouvel.

JUJUS / Alchemy of the Blues

MATLAB enables you to work with its graphics capabilities in almost all areas of the experimental sciences and engineering. The commands that MATLAB implements in job related graphics are quite useful and are very efficient. MATLAB has functions for working with two-dimensional and three-dimensional graphics, statistical graphs, curves and surfaces in explicit, implicit, parametric and polar coordinates. It also works perfectly with twisted curves, surfaces, volumes and graphical interpolation. MATLAB Graphical Programming addresses all these issues by developing the following topics: This book is a reference designed to give you a simple syntax example of the commands and to graph it so that you can see the result for:

Virginia Migrations - Hanover County

This applications-oriented text assumes no knowledge of mathematical logic in its development of nonstandard analysis techniques and their applications to elementary real analysis and topological and Hilbert space. 1977 edition.

MATLAB Graphical Programming

Volume offers a critical examination of the portrayals of relationships in the various media and debunks the myths perpetuated there. For courses in media criticism/media literacy, mass communication, & interpersonal communication.

One of the world's most popular patterns books, many jazz greats have fond memories of practicing from this great resource! It features an exhaustive collection of improvisational jazz patterns in various meters and feels. Comments and suggestions are included by the author---a legendary composer, arranger, conductor, and instrumentalist. This is a very popular book because it helps spell out some of the basic building blocks of the jazz language. It is regarded by many jazz teachers as one of the essential texts for their students.

The Social Evil, with Special Reference to Conditions Existing in the City of New York

• How to cope with the realities of life as an actor—if you don't laugh, you'll cry • In-depth interviews with actors, agents, casting directors. In this hip, warts-and-all look at acting, author Jason Pugatch shares his insights as a working "day player" to give an unvarnished look at theater, film, and television: how to be "discovered," what to expect from training programs, the grunt work of starting a career, how to keep going despite constant rejection, and much more. Packed with myth-shattering anecdotes and told in an intriguing personal tone, Acting Is a Job is the backstage guide that every aspiring actor must read. Allworth Press, an imprint of Skyhorse Publishing, publishes a broad range of books on the visual and performing arts, with emphasis on the business of art. Our titles cover subjects such as graphic design, theater, branding, fine art, photography, interior design, writing, acting, film, how to start careers, business and legal forms, business practices, and more. While we don't aspire to publish a New York Times bestseller or a national bestseller, we are deeply committed to quality books that help creative professionals succeed and thrive. We often publish in areas overlooked by other publishers and welcome the author whose expertise can help our audience of readers.

The Invention of Everything Else

This topically organized collection is intended as an introduction to the many varied voices of ancient philosophy that involves the reader directly in the issues.

Rather than proceeding chronologically, the student engages with a variety of contributions to issues of continuing relevance.

Patterns for Improvisation

Which wars killed the most people? Was the twentieth century the most violent in history? Are religions, tyrants or ideologies responsible for the greatest bloodshed? In this remarkable and original book, 'atrocitologist' Matthew White assesses man's inhumanity to man over several thousand years. From the Punic Wars between Rome and Carthage to the cataclysmic events of World War II, Atrocitology spans centuries and civilisations as it measures the hundred most violent episodes in history. Relying on statistical analysis rather than grand theories, White offers three big lessons: chaos is more deadly than tyranny, the world is much more disorganised than we realise, and more civilians than soldiers are killed in wars—in fact, the army is usually the safest place to be during wartime. Our understanding of history's worst atrocities is patchy and skewed. This book sets the record straight, charting those events with the largest man-made death tolls without fear or favour.

The Universal System of Practical Bookkeeping

The Fourth Edition of Statistics: A Gentle Introduction shows students that an introductory statistics class doesn't need to be difficult or dull. Author Fred Coolidge minimizes students' anxieties about math by explaining the concepts of statistics in plain language first, before addressing the math. Each formula within the text has a step-by-step example to demonstrate the calculation so students can follow along. Only those formulas that are important for final calculations are included in the text so students can focus on the concepts, not the numbers. A wealth of real-world examples and applications gives a context for statistics in the real world and how it helps us solve problems and make informed choices. New to the Fourth Edition are sections on working with big data, new coverage of alternative non-parametric tests, beta coefficients, and the "nocebo effect," discussions of p values in the context of research, an expanded discussion of confidence intervals, and more exercises and homework options under the new feature "Test Yourself."

Judo for Soldiers Illustrated After Pearl Harbor and the U.S. entry into WWII, there was a need for troops to be taught how to prevail in Hand-to-Hand combat with the enemy. This book, written by the author of "Police Jiu-Jitsu", sought to fill this void by presenting some basic and practical Judo moves that could aid a soldier who might come face to face with the enemy. Well organized, and presented in a 'you are in the training class at boot camp' fashion complete with fellow soldiers from Detroit, the Bronx and even the Mid-west, it offers examples of simple hold releases and counters for many fighting scenarios and situations. Clear illustrations give a good sense of how the techniques are employed, which makes it easy to see how you would do them yourself. A gem of a book, especially for students of martial arts history and World War 2 era combat technique. It even features a small section at the end showing several moves especially for women and demonstrated in the same narrative style using WAAC recruits learning self-defense.

The Design Process

This is an interactive work covering the design process from searching for ideas to defining and maintaining sources of inspiration. It emphasises the importance of the designer's mind as opposed to the designer's hands.

Cuckoo's Nest Revisited

This work examines how you can be a maker of great stories for a range of forms and media, why stories are so important to human beings, whether you can ever write anything new. This collection of essays is a must for teachers, students and practitioners of creative writing.

Moon's Sign Book

Many scholars consider Poe's critical work the most significant aspect of his career.

The Sun Will Rise Again

A young Registered Nurse, not long out of her training years in a large, busy county hospital serving a major U.S. city, begins her day in the acute locked psychiatric ward of a smaller county hospital nearby. While she knows, in general, what to expect, the details that will emerge over the next eight hours are as yet not revealed. What follows, taken from the notes in her journal concerning that day, reflect the vast array of tragedies, great and small, the triumphs, the hopes, and the disappointments of a representative sample of the 20% of American citizens who will, during their lives, experience similar events that will cause them to spend time in such a setting. Events like suicide attempts, incest, murder, profound unhappiness, entrapment by mind-wrenching drugs, failed loves, and bizarre behavior, not confined to the patients alone, that set people apart from their fellows, along with hope and the earnest wish for a better life. This book, all of it true - though the names of the actors have been disguised - describes a burgeoning problem: what is, sometimes loosely and inaccurately, termed "mental illness" and modern attempts to deal with it. Many of them challenge our best efforts to define what is, and what is not, "normal." Their numbers are growing; the cost of their care takes a huge portion of health expenditures. Solutions are far from being at hand, yet those solutions are a measure of our humanity. Some of the people you will meet here are your friends and neighbors, your family and, just possibly, you yourself.

Applied Nonstandard Analysis

A group of monumentally powerful teens must face an ancient, soul-eating foe in this second book of The Star Shards Chronicles. A cataclysmic explosion has given earthly teens astronomical powers—when the star Mentarsus-H went supernova at their conceptions, the teens absorbed the shattered soul of the star and inherited unimaginable abilities. Now the Star Shards have become like gods, drunk on their own power—and ripe for manipulation by The Bringer, a creature who would turn them against one another and transform the planet into his own personal feeding ground. But who is more dangerous: The Bringer or the Star Shards? Acclaimed author Neal Shusterman presents “a story which is grippingly unexpected” (The Bookwatch) that sets the stage for the riveting conclusion to The Star Shards trilogy. Originally published by Tor Fantasy in 1999.

The Feres Doctrine

"Jujus / Alchemy of the Blues" is a collection of poems by Sarah Webster Fabio. "Jujus / Alchemy of the Blues" is about how what is said connotes attitudinal characteristics that are almost as important as the simple denotative and / or connotative meaning of what is said. This collection is a rebuffs the racism of English rhetoric that labels everything "pidgin" except that which is Latin, English and/or American. This is a collection of the Poems of Sarah Webster Fabio which demonstrates and encourages other black writers to explore and theorize that which will help free the language and liberate the thoughts, rhythm and style of Black folks. The writer's goal is reflecting the history and culture of Blacks throughout the world. Sarah Webster Fabio (1/20/1928-11/7/1979) was a poet, creative writer, and scholar. She is said to be the mother of Black Studies.
